Developer aims to protect Puzzle Mt. while carving out large-lot subdivision

Four proposed lots would each be over 100 acres, with covenants against further subdivision

By ALISON ALOISIO

Newry planners are reviewing a proposed subdivision for Puzzle Mountain that owner Bob Stewart hopes will set a standard for future development in the Bear River Val-

What is unique about the project is the size of the four proposed lots — more than 100 acres each — and Stewart's pledge to donate another 450 acres to the Mahoosuc Land Trust.

Stewart, who spearheaded the 42-mile Grafton Loop Trail project through the Mahoosuc Mountains, owns 1,352 acres on Puzzle Mountain. Part of the trail crosses the mountain.

He plans to donate the upper area of the mountain to MLT. It would be known as the Preserve of Puzzle Mountain.

The subdivision, located across from the Eddy Road on Route 26, would include the four large lots and a fifth one of 52 acres. The smaller parcel would provide access to the

The subdivision road would be 8,190 feet in length.

Stewart also plans to donate to MLT a small parcel surrounding the loop trail parking area.

"The plans that we have set forth are, in my opinion, less intrusive on the environment than any I have ever experienced. The benefit to the community and the region will also be substantial, in that a magnificent mountain will be preserved forever," Stewart said in a letter to the Planning Board.

"This plan for a development, based on a concern for the environment and the public, is unprecedented. Hope-

A dozen members of the Buck's Ledges Committee and the Mahoosuc Land Trust hiked recently to the Lapham Ledge in Woodstock, where they enjoyed the view toward Bryant Pond village and Lake Christopher. The two organizations have embarked on a fundraising campaign to protect a 660-acre parcel of land that includes both Lapham and Buck's ledges. Here, Norm Putnam, chairman of the Woodstock Planning Board, points out features of the landscape. Information on the ledges campaign can be found in a letter to the editor on page 2 of this week's Citizen. (Photo by Michael Daniels)

Newry FD wants fire protection guidelines in subdivision reviews

As subdivisions spread up a half," he said. and down the Sunday and Bear river valleys — up the nearby mountainsides Newry firefighters are looking for some help from a proposed new fire ordinance.

The ordinance is expected to be voted on at a special Town Meeting. It would apply to subdivisions of three lots or more that are not served by public pressurized fire hydrants.

The ordinance would require that developers either provide a fire pond or cistern to store water, or stipulate that buyers install sprinkler systems in their homes.

With an increasing number of developments in hardto-reach places, the requirements "would give us a fighting chance in a fire," said Bruce Pierce, assistant fire chief in Newry. "It would even the odds a little bit."

Otherwise, he said, firefighters could be faced with the prospect of laying out fire hose over long distances. "Don't make us drag hoses a mile and

Pierce also said that with higher-end houses going up all over, there are generally higher expectations about fire protection.

He has been researching a fire ordinance for the Newry department over the past couple of years. The Newry Planning Board recently began discussing it, as well.

He said sprinklers are a good option for homes, because they are very effective and can lower insurance costs.

They are particularly advisable for residences built on the sides of hills and mountains, Pierce said. While fire ponds help, he said, there are still no guarantees firefighters can get a fire truck up a steep, narrow road, especially in the winter. And even if they can, by the time they arrive it may be too late.

But instead they disappeared — leaving a big gap for historical and genealogical researchers.

"I don't know how many times people doing family research have asked me about the records," Bennett said.

On Sept. 21 the Mason records will be transferred to their originally intended destination.

The Oxford County commissioners will turn the three volumes over to the town of Bethel, where they will be safely ensconced in the fireproof vault in the town office.

Town Clerk Christen Mason has agreed to allow the Historical Society to photocopy the record.

The photocopies will be available to the public in the society's research library in the Dr. Moses Mason house on Broad Street.

"Not only gives us a second copy, to preserve the records," Bennett said, "but it takes the pressure off the Town Office when people have to look things up. That's what we're here for."

WHERE IS THE LEADERSHIP?

To the Editor:

There is a real tragedy happening in this world. It is that billions of dollars are being spent in this country on political 'ads that tell the public half-truths, exaggerations and outright lies. Meanwhile, in Sudan families are being driven from their homes, adults and children being butchered, the young and women are being raped. Millions are starving to death. I do not believe that a kind and loving God can approve of this.

The UN has made a weak attempt to do something. But, where is the leadership of the most powerful nation in the world. 'Where is the show of concern? Is there no oil in Sudan?

. I know that there are many who have not yet made up their lminds rather to vote for Bush or Kerry. I suggest they cease to listen to all the costly ads.

Wait and watch the debates, then make up their mind: Who will we trust to lead and unite this country? Who shows the ability and desire to work with all the nations of the world to solve the grave problems we all face?

TIM CARTER

To the Editor:

I'm writing to have people consider voting for Tim Carter as House Representative from District 91. He's been a long-term resident of Bethel and is familiar with the problems of this area. He worked for the USDA as Northeast director for seven years, giving him firsthand knowledge of the needs and concerns of the citizens of our state.

He's concerned about affordable healthcare and the educational background of our young people so they can better cope with the present world. He enjoys talking with people and addressing their concerns, and I feel he'd follow through by taking their concerns to Augusta and having them made known.

BRUCE BRYANT, MIKE MICHAUD

I am writing this letter in support of the re-elections of State Sen. Bruce Bryant and Congressman Mike Michaud.

These men come from backgrounds that offered little opportunity outside of working in the mills. As natural leaders, they have repeatedly demonstrated a propensity for hard work, long hours and real integrity. Their core value structure was developed when they fought to improve the working conditions of their fellow laborers and they brought those concerns, with that perspective, to their legislative roles.

Most politicians talk about jobs, education and the environment. When you are looking for votes, being on the right side of such issues is a "no-brainer." But, for Bryant and Michaud, these aren't abstract subjects and their records prove when they pledge to support the aspirations of ordinary people, they aren't mouthing campaign slogans.

All too often, the most important decisions affecting the working class are made by professionals and business people. Whether these are people who mean well or not, they cannot provide genuine representation for a large proportion of our population who rarely possess a voice of their own. This is especially true in Washington.

Western Maine should be proud of the caliber of representation it has in Bruce Bryant and Mike Michaud. We should return them to office with large margins.

FUNDRAISING PLAN FOR LEDGES

To the Editor:

Buck's Ledges, the magnificent natural landmark on the west side of North Pond in Woodstock Compiled by JOHN K. BROWN and the 660 acres along with it, may be sold soon, threatening the scenic, recreational, ecological values we've all enjoyed for so many generations.

That property along with approximately 600,000 acres in Maine owned by Meadwestvaco (previously Boise-Cascade) has been sold to a pension fund called Bayroot LLC. Their management signed to purchase the Sugpartner, Wagner Forest Management Ltd., is slowly selling off the scattered lots on behalf of the Bayroot investors.

Mahoosuc Land Trust, a nonprofit conservation land trust in this area, is assessing the conservation/public values of the property, determining the threat, and evaluating the fundraising potential of our community to purchase and protect this property.

The Buck's Ledges property has been used for generations for hiking, climbing, snowmobiling and hunting. There are magnificent views of North Pond, Lake Christopher and the surrounding area from Buck's and Lapham Ledges. There are important ecological areas that should be protected and other forestland that could be harvested sustainably in the future providing important forest products and maintaining our traditional local economy.

Many of these important values could be threatened if the land is sold for development. There is the possibility that some of the prominent ridges that we all enjoy viewing from Gore Road, Route 26, and other vantage points could be built upon. At minimum, public access could be

Growth in our area is inevitable and provides some important benefits to our communities. We believe that balancing development with the conservation of our most important natural areas is best for our communities. This large property, so closely located to the village of Bryant motorists on Route 2. Pond, North Pond, Gore Road, and Route 26, will become even more strategically important to maintain for open space, recreation and forestry in the future as our communities grow.

A committee has been established to organize local interest in this project. We are sending Jr., David H. Marston, Guy P. you this letter to gather information to present to the Mahoosuc Land Trust Board of Directors regarding community interest in this property.

A price has not yet been established for this property. The price range could be somewhere between $400,000 and $500,000 and possibly more. If Mahoosuc Land Trust goes forward with the project, they will hire a certified appraiser to determine the price. As a public, nonprofit organization, they are required by IRS regulations to pay fair market value as determined by an appraisal. All contributions to Mahoosuc Land Trust for this project would be deductible to the full extent of IRS regulations.

The Mahoosuc Land Trust is interested in working with the town of Woodstock, this local committee, residents and visitors to determine the best strategies for protecting this important resource. There are several protection strategies that Mahoosuc Land Trust might consider. The first consideration is to acquire the entire property, maintain the traditional access for hiking, hunting, snowmobiling, forestry, etc., and allow no development. An alternative could be to protect the public access and the most important wildlife habitat areas and to allow limited development in parts of the property that are the least sensitive. There are likely other strategies that will be explored.

If Mahoosuc Land Trust goes forward it will work with this local committee to develop and implement a full fundraising strategy including mailing to thousands of area residents and visitors, and apply for private foundation grants and other public funds.

TRAILS GROUP SEEKS COMMUNITY INPUT, SUPPORT

Bethel Area Trails is a recently formed committee of the Mahoosuc Land Trust, which is seeking community support and involvement in its effort to plan, design, and implement a recreational trail system for the greater Bethel area of western Maine. The group has the following purposes:

to increase accessible recreational opportunities to provide enjoyment and health benefits to bring the well-documented economic benefits of successful trail corridors to the area by attracting tourism and establishing a reputation as a trail destination;

- to assist communities in planning for the dedication of this important recreational resource while it is still possible;

— to advocate for pedestrians, bicycle riders, and other alternatives to automobile transportation by ensuring that our communities provide such access.

The Trail Committee will achieve these purposes by: seeking broad public input to determine what types of trails and trail corridors are the most desirable, using such tools as surveys and community conferences; thoroughly respecting property rights of landowners and demonstrating appreciation for landowners who permit public use of their land; working as partners with all parties who share mutually beneficial goals, including area towns, health and educational institutions, businesses, conservation groups, public and private landowners, residents, as well as motorized trail user groups.

We have much of the expertise and energy in the community to succeed in a major trail effort. Whether future trails link Bethel and surrounding villages, provide safe bicycle access to the new swimming hole on the North Road, or provide handicapped access to trails, our hope is to pull together and draw on the public and interested groups to define a vision of what type of trail network would best serve the community.

You can help in three ways: 1) complete and return the Trail Use Survey below; 2) send a letter of support on behalf of you or your organization to: Landon Fake, president, Mahoosuc Land Trust, P.O. Box 981, Bethel, ME 04217; and 3) contact the committee to become involved in the trail planning process. If you would simply like to receive notices regarding meetings and activities of Bethel Area Trails, please provide your e-mail address to: kirks@megalink.net.

No date yet on recall meeting

GREENWOOD — Town selectmen Tuesday accepted a petition calling for a special Town Meeting to consider the recall of selectman Ivan Roberts, but they did not set a date for the meeting. Roberts has 10 days to voluntarily resign (he has said he does not intend to), following which the selectmen must call a special Town Meeting within 30 to 60 days. Selectmen Fred Henderson and Wayne Hakala said they wanted to wait until Roberts' 10 days were up before setting a date for the meeting. They are expected to do so at a special selectmen's meeting, on Sept. 16 at 5 p.m. Roberts has requested the meeting be scheduled for Saturday, Nov. 13.

Bennett hurt in log truck crash

GILEAD — Bethel trucker Mike Bennett, 32, was injured Friday when his logging truck rolled over on Route 2. Bennett's 1988 International pulp truck rolled over and struck a ledge in the 5 p.m. crash. Bennett was able to free himself. He was taken by ambulance to Stephens Memorial Hospital in Norway, where he was treated for a head injury and released. The accident shut down Route 2 for about two hours, forcing a detour over the North Road. Logs were scattered over both travel lanes. D.A. Wilson of Bethel removed the logs, and a wrecker from Ripley & Fletcher of Paris righted the truck.

HANOVER — The new Hanover Post Office opened last week, after 47 years of being housed at Howe's Store on Route 2. The new 80-by-20-foot space, also on Route 2, is several times larger than the rented area in Howe's. Chris Howe of Gordie Howe's Store is now looking for a new tenant for the space, located at the back of the store.

Ski industry 'green' effort criticized

DENVER— The U.S. ski industry's efforts to improve its environmental image and follow strict principles that value land, water and air are largely hollow and little more than a marketing ploy, according to a new study. Professors Jorge Rivera of George Washington University and Peter de Leon of the University of Colorado at Denver say the National Ski Areas Association's four-year-old Sustainable Slopes Program is ineffective. The two say the program lacks outside oversight and does not require its 175 ski resort operators to follow any specific environmental policies. They concluded resorts that follow the program actually have worse environmental records than resorts that don't participate. "This finding suggests that SSP members appear to be displaying free-riding behavior expecting to improve their "green" reputation without actually implementing it," Rivera and de Leon wrote in the study, published in the August issue of Policy Studies Journal. The ski areas association launched the program in 2000 as a voluntary charter outlining environmental principles and guidelines ski resorts could use to save energy and natural resources, protect wildlife and habitat and educate guests on environmental stewardship. Geraldine Link, public policy director for the National Ski Areas Association, said the organization considers the program a success. "Regulations only help you avoid the worst, and a voluntary program like this can only bring out the best in terms of environmental compliance," she told The Denver Post. She said 25 resorts in the program are purchasing "green" energy at an additional cost "because it's the right thing to do." The professors also say publicly traded companies that own the resorts are beholden to stockholders more concerned with short-term gains than environmental stewardship. And they said support from the Forest Service and Environmental Protection Agency lends unwarranted legitimacy to the program.

Decent apple harvest predicted

PITTSFIELD-A decent apple harvest is expected in Maine despite last winter's harsh weather that killed thousands of apple trees. Russell Powell of the New England Apple Association, based in Hatfield, Mass., said the 2004 national crop is predicted to be slightly larger than last year's harvest. That was the projection at a U.S. Apple Association conference last month in Chicago. In Maine, Powell said growers are expecting to harvest nearly 1.1 million 42-pound boxes, which would match the state's five-year average and is slightly up from 2003. Elsewhere in New England, Powell said the New Hampshire harvest is expected to be up slightly over last year, while the crop in Vermont, Rhode Island, Connecticut and Massachusetts will be flat or slightly down. Maine growers say good summer growing conditions are making up for the rough winter.

Playful pooch dials 911

FRANKLIN— A playful pooch might wind up in the doghouse after calling 911 on its owners' phone. An emergency operator answered a 911 call at about 6:20 a.m. Saturday from a home on Route 182, but nobody was on the line and all the operator could hear was a shuffling noise in the background, said Hancock County Sheriff's Deputy Shane Campbell. Campbell and two emergency medical technicians went to the house to investigate, but the owners weren't home. What they found instead was a husky puppy and a chewed-up cordless phone on the floor. The homeowners later said that it was the first time they had left the dog at home by itself, Campbell said. "He didn't need any help," the deputy said of the dog. "He hit the right numbers, though."

From the Bethel Police Log:

Monday, Sept. 6

At 7:36 p.m. Officer Michael Grenier received a report of a subject who might be intoxicated walking on Route 2. The officer found the subject, who had one unopened beer in a bag with him. Because the subject was very intoxicated, the officer gave him a ride to his girlfriend's place of employment, so he could wait for her to get done with work.

Saturday, Sept. 4

At 3:20 p.m. on the West Bethel Road Officer Michael Grenier charged Jeremy L. Murray, 22, of West Gardiner with operating after suspension.

At 8:09 p.m. Officer Michael Grenier received a report that a subject carrying a backpack was in a bathroom at the airport, and might be intoxicated. The officer found the subject, who had not been drinking. He had flown a plane into the airport several days before and had been hiking in the area. He planned to sleep under his plane that night. Friday, Sept. 3

At 12:30 a.m. Officers Michael Grenier and Shane Thomas arrested Dertha R. Blount, 30, of Peru for OUI and failing to stop for an officer. She was also charged with possession of a usable amount of marijuana and possession of drug paraphernalia.

Wednesday, Sept. 1

At 8:52 p.m. Officer Shane Thomas stopped a vehicle on Lincoln Street that had been observed traveling at a high rate of speed on Route 2. Jeffrey D. Palmer, 42, was arrested and charged with OUI and having illegally attached plates. This report highlights points of interest from the Bethel Police Department log. It lists all cases of adults being arrested or issued a criminal summon in the 10 days prior to the newspaper's publication, but does not include all reports of other police activity. To reach the Bethel Police Department, call 911 in emergency situations, 824-3437 in non-emergencies.

Stewart told planners at last week's meeting that he sees the large lots appealing not to mainstream buyers but to those "with sort of a wild spirit." who would like "a large lot with the preserve behind them.

"The loop trail will be a drawing card. I don't think you'll find a better view in Newry."

He also said he hopes buyers will utilize alternative energy sources, such as solar power. Property owners would have the right to cut trees on their land. Covenants would prevent the lots from being subdivided.

I guess things must be quiet in Gilead this week. There is very little to report. The children went back to school on Sept. 1. I was talking to Steve McLain, who works at the SAD44 Maintenance Garage, and he said that they had been very busy getting all the buses ready for the school year. Over the summer, the crew inspects and cleans each bus from top to bottom to be sure that the children have a safe ride to school. People always tell about hearing something 'on the street.' I did the other day. Actually, it was on the North Road. You can find out lots of things traveling to work early in the morning. It seems that Jack Pucak celebrated a birthday recently. His neighbors brought him many lovely gifts. Some of them were quite practical and others were to "ensure" that he maintains good health. Happy belated birthday, Jack,

The Way I See It

Sharon Bouchard's column is published by special arrangement with the Advertising Department

I have always been the Queen of Techno-dopes and have often written about my inability to program my VCR and my complete lack of understanding of my computer.

In recent years I have actually made some advancements in techno-knowledge. I have learned quite a bit about my computer, at least the basics that once alluded me. I can program my coffeemaker and microwave like a pro. I haven't learned how to tape television shows on my VCR yet, but that's no big deal because there is never anything on worth taping.

You know the old saying, "Just when I thought I was winning the rat race, they threw in bigger rats"? Well. just when I thought I was gaining in the technology race, they threw in bigger technology.

Here's a case in point. Sunday, morning I decided to look through one of the sale flyers that fill the Sunday paper. The flyer I was looking at was for one of those stores that sell just about anything that can be plugged in or charged up and a few things that can't.

It started out pretty well with the first page featuring a clothes washer and dryer. Nothing unusual there; nothing I couldn't understand other than what I consider to be an outrageous price.

The next couple of pages were devoted to refrigerators, stoves, dishwashers, floorcare products and more washers and dryers. Even though they use a lot of fancy names like SmartFit and Turbo-Power, there was nothing confusing there.

Well, there was one dryer that boggled my mind with its AccuDry temp control sensor. It's supposed to sense when the clothes are dry and turn itself off. I can't imagine how that works, but if it works right, it a pretty good idea. Moving on in the flyer I came to the pages selling all of the various games. This is where I started to zone out because I understand games like Monopoly and Yatzee. I don't have a clue about Play Station 1 and 2, XBOX, or Game Boy with or without color.

What ever happend to plain old telephones?

I know I'm going to sound like an old fuddy duddy, but I remember when games required a little imagination and brain skill, but did not require batteries or computer chips.

The game pages meant nothing to me so I moved on to the television pages. In the not too distant future I know we are going to have to replace our tired TV, so I checked these pages over with great interest figuring I would be right at home with my basic knowledge of television sets.

I found myself looking at things like 1280X768 resolution, 3D digital comb filters. CineMotion reverse 3.2 pulldown, 800:1 contrast ratio. Pixel Plus technology, HDTV, HDM1 and component inputs. What the heck is all this about?

The remote control is still an amazing piece of technology to me. I couldn't understand any of the features that were being advertised. I just want a television that you plug in and watch. With these electronic monsters I suspect one would have to take a course just to learn how to turn the darn things on.

And the prices - my word! You could buy a good used car for less than what these mega televisions cost!

Moving right along to the telephone and cell phone pages, my brain was thrown into a bigger tizzy from everything I didn't understand there. Whatever happened to regular plain old telephones? Remember them? They plug into a phone jack, they either hang on the wall or sit on a desk and have curly cords.

There was only one of those types of telephones in the flyer and it included a cordless mate. That phone was a 2.4GHz Analog Corded/Cordless Set with Digital Answering System. 2.4GHZ doesn't mean a whole heck of a lot to me. Unless they can create a phone that washes my dishes and balances my checkbook. I don't care what else it can do. I use my telephone to call and talk to people, that's it. I really don't need digital this and programmable that.

Don't even get me going on cell phones. I don't have one and I don't want one and I don't understand them anyway.

Without even getting into an added monthly expense, which always seems to be a lot higher than people expect. there is the fact that most of the time the call quality is terrible. The calls break up when you're in the middle of an important conversation, there is static on the line and occasional beeping. So what if you can take pictures and send them to your computer? What about just being able to have a conversation?

It was at that point that I threw the fiver away. Technology is racing so far ahead of me that I can't even read a sale flyer with any comprehension. But, the way I see it. that's okay. I'm quite content to spend my time with a good book that stimulates my imagination and any programming that needs to be done is just turning the knob on my transistor radio.

Church services for the month of September are at the North Waterford Church from 10 to 11 a.m.

On Wednesday, Sept. 1, the Friendly Senior Citizens met at the North Waterford Church vestry for their monthly lunch and meeting at 11:30 a.m. There were 19 members present. Marjorie Kimball led the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag and Mary Andrews gave the blessing before the delicious potluck luncheon, put on by members present. We had a good variety, and those who didn't want to cook paid a small amount for their meal. Everyone seemed happy with this arrangement.

that, you are less likely to dodge when the traffic doesn't want to stop to let you through. Anyhow, the DOT suggestions that they would put up the flashing yellow lights is a joke because people just make fun of them and keep sailing right on through. Seldom does anyone pay any attention to those. Maybe if they had a siren attached it might work, but I think the confusion that would cause would outweigh the advantages. I think that one just has to be like the flea on a dog, be irritating enough and maybe someone will get tired of saying no and get the idea that people want a traffic light put there before someone else gets killed. It seems to me that someone's life ought to be worth the money it takes to put one up. What kind of a price tag do people put on a life these days? I still like to think that life is valuable even if the attitude often is "people are a dime a dozen." At least that seems to be the attitude of DOT. There are certainly enough tragedies happening that one can do nothing about. Something can be done about this dangerous situation. Would letter-writing campaigns help?

It is a little scary to be holding a cat near your face and he has a claw caught in your blouse and he is blaming you. Buddy was getting mighty upset, his ears were flattened and he was spitting at me and the only thing I could do was just keep my hands at my sides and hope he didn't get any more panicky than he was already. He finally got the claw out and jumped down to the relief of both of us.

We lost our big gourami last week and now the little one looks lost in the 55-gallon tank. I don't know whether to add a couple dwarf gouramis to keep him company or go to another species of fish altogether or just leave him alone and when he is gone go out of the fish business. (This spell check is driving me to distraction. I wrote couple of dwarf gouramis and they told me it was wrong and to change it to gourami which I did and now they are saying that is wrong and to go back to the first spelling. I am going to ignore and you can take your Deering Memorial Methodist I will add another one of his members of Ring McKeen kind, which is the so-called kissing variety. nasium for Clarence R. Reid, teacher and school principal to most of us here in town. He was my favorite high school teacher. "Doodie," as he was nicknamed, made all of his classes interesting and informative. He taught us respect, for ourselves, our parents, teachers, townfolk, our church and our country. He gave us confidence that we could succeed in life, no matter what circumstances in our lives might be. Doodie took our basketball team clear to the state championship twice, in 1948 and 1950. He absolutely inspired us in classes, sports, and in life itself. He and his good wife, Ruth, played a really major role in the lives of a good many of us here in the town of West Paris. Clarence R. "Doodie" Reid, you will be sorely missed. God bless you. I wish to thank the Rev. Walter Webb of Doodie's church, choice). I left for "downcountry" Saturday afternoon, spending the evening at the home of friends in Limerick. After a most delicious supper, we spent an evening of singing, looking at commenting about the weath- photographs and reminiscing, which as times seem to get busier we don't have much time to do anymore.

> Sunday a.m., after a breakfast of blueberry pancakes, with fresh home-grown blueberries in them, swimming in good Maine maple syrup, I left for Acton and my youngest son David's home. Cars were just arriving at church as I got there. Good timing. We all later went to Acton Fair, as my grandchildren are active in 4-H and took several blue and red ribbons. We ate at the fair at lunchtime — barbecue pork sandwiches, fresh corn on the cob and fresh squeezed lemonade. It was real good. The kids also had french fries. For dessert we had funnel cakes, which the Boy Scout booth was selling. It, too, was good. My grandchildren rode on rides that made me dizzy just looking at them. My how they all (including baby Henry) have grown.

Oxford County Democrats

Sen. Bruce Bryant visited the Woodstock/Greenwood Senior Citizens Club on Sept. 2 to promote the RxExpress Prescription Drug Trip to Canada that he and the other Oxford County Democratic legislative candidates are supporting in collaboration with the Maine Council of Senior Citizens. Savings on a similar trip in June amounted to nearly $30,000 for the twelve individuals traveling to Cana-

There are twenty slots available on the Oct. 13 and 14 trip. Information about the trip may be obtained from Bryant at 562-8872, the Maine Council of Senior Citizens, (800) 452-8794, or from County Democratic Chairperson Cathy Newell, 875-2116.

Bryant, who is seeking reelection to the Maine Senate in District 14, held campaign meetings in Jay and Bethel last week. Reports were given on the activities planned for the two months until election. Bryant supporters will be assisting local Democratic committees with the field offices that have been opened in Mexico, Bethel, Buckfield and Jay.

At the Sept. 2 opening of the Bethel area office on Route 26, attended by more than 30 Democrats from Bethel, Greenwood, Woodstock, Albany and Newry, Bryant highlighted the accomplishments of the Legislature in the areas of healthcare, economic development, dairy farming, and liquidation harvesting. Recently appointed to the Commission on Maine's Future Forest Economy, Bryant also serves on the Maine Fire Protection Commission, the Task Force on Veterans Health Services, the University's Board of Agriculture, and chairs the Fish Hatchery Commission.

"They're working hard on freshman games with other their passing game, because you can get the ball down the field faster than by dribbling,' she said. A change in the position of players for penalty corner situations has also helped performance, she said.

But whoever Wight puts on the field, and whatever the strategies may be, "They're going to be exciting to watch,"

Soccer

Tim Remington takes over varsity coaching duties this year from Nate Buckman.

The team includes a large number of seniors, but they do not have a lot of varsity experience.

"We graduated 10 seniors last year, so for these present seniors playing time was limited," said Remington. "They have had the instruction, and strategy-wise they are very good. Now they need to perform it on a varsity field."

The lineup includes seniors Matt Mills (midfielder), Glen Carver(forward), Terry Collins (goalkeeper), Kevin Zinchuk (fullback/midfielder), Chris Duplessis (fullback), Justin Donnaruma (midfielder), Ross Parker (fullback/midfielder), Will Caswell (forward), Jeff Benson (midfielder), August Reiss (midfielder), Jessica James (forward), Andrew Raymond (midfielder) and Alex Helms (forward); juniors Blake Conrad (fullback). Stephen Scotti (forward/midfielder) and Nate Walker (fullback); and sophomores Matt Zinchuk (midfielder), Louis Thornton (forward), and Charles Haines (defense/goalkeeper). Despite the relative lack of field experience, the seniors on the squad provide good leadership, Remington said. He sees co-captains Zinchuk, Parker and Collins as the Georges Valley, Mt. Abram, Hall-Dale and Winthrop should be the toughest opponents for the Rebels this season, said Remington.

Golf

Jim Lunney's golf squad is in good shape, as the top two players — both juniors are back this year.

"We have Brady Chapman, our #1 player, returning and Errol Andrews #2 player returning," said Lunney. "Add junior Sean Caddigan to the mix, and Telstar has one of the best 1-2-3 player combinations ever. The team will be very strong in the MVC and could return to the States again this Sophomore Braydon Crockett-Rice returns for his second season and has shown good improvement over the summer, said Lunney.

Freshman Kyle Maines has shot some good scores early in the season and will contend for a top-5 spot on the team, he said.

Sophomore Josh McDonnell and freshman Desmond Cox add depth. "Josh returns for his second season and could be a factor in the top five, said Lunney.

Senior Josh Longway and Ryan Savage come to golf for the first time and could also add depth to the squad, said Lunney.

"The team outlook is good, and the team is looking toward the top spot in the MVC and returning to the State Team Invitational," he said.

Cross Country Coach Gary Wight's boys' squad gained a freshman, Jeremiah White, this year, but lost a couple of veterans to another sport. The team is setting a relatively modest goal to improve their performance and to get a couple of runners into the top finishers in Mountain Valley Conference competition.

Returning Rebel runners include seniors Andrew Farrington, Clay Smith and Andy Aloisio; and juniors Ryan Cross, Jason McAvoy and Roy DePasquale.

Two girls, junior Kim Lauro and freshman Brianna Bailey, are competing this year. It's not enough to score as a team, but a positive development over last season, when there was no girls' team.
